JOSHUA CREEK

A VISIONARY MASTER PLAN

Extending north from Dundas St. E., Montage is master-planned to take its place among the most enlightened new neighbourhoods in Ontario. The 95-acre site, thoughtfully planned to integrate with the existing landscape, is surrounded by parks and natural heritage sites of meadow and woodland, centred around a pond and anchored on a new corridor of mixed-use and retail on Dundas Street. Interconnected trails make it pedestrian-friendly and convenient for accessing neighbourhood amenities. Attractively landscaped and concisely connected, the community provides everything you need for a streamlined lifestyle.

JOSHUA CREEK

ESSENTIAL OPEN SPACE

In the centre of Montage, a new 4-acre neighbourhood park will give shape to the concept of retreat and respite among friends and neighbours. A lushly planted oasis and a gathering place, this blissful open space will be easy to travel to on foot along multiple access paths. Native plants and trees, decorative fencing, comfortable outdoor seating and grassy picnic areas will draw the neighbourhood outside. Unlike a typical park, this neighbourhood gem will provide unique play equipment along with a mix of open green spaces and designated sports play areas.

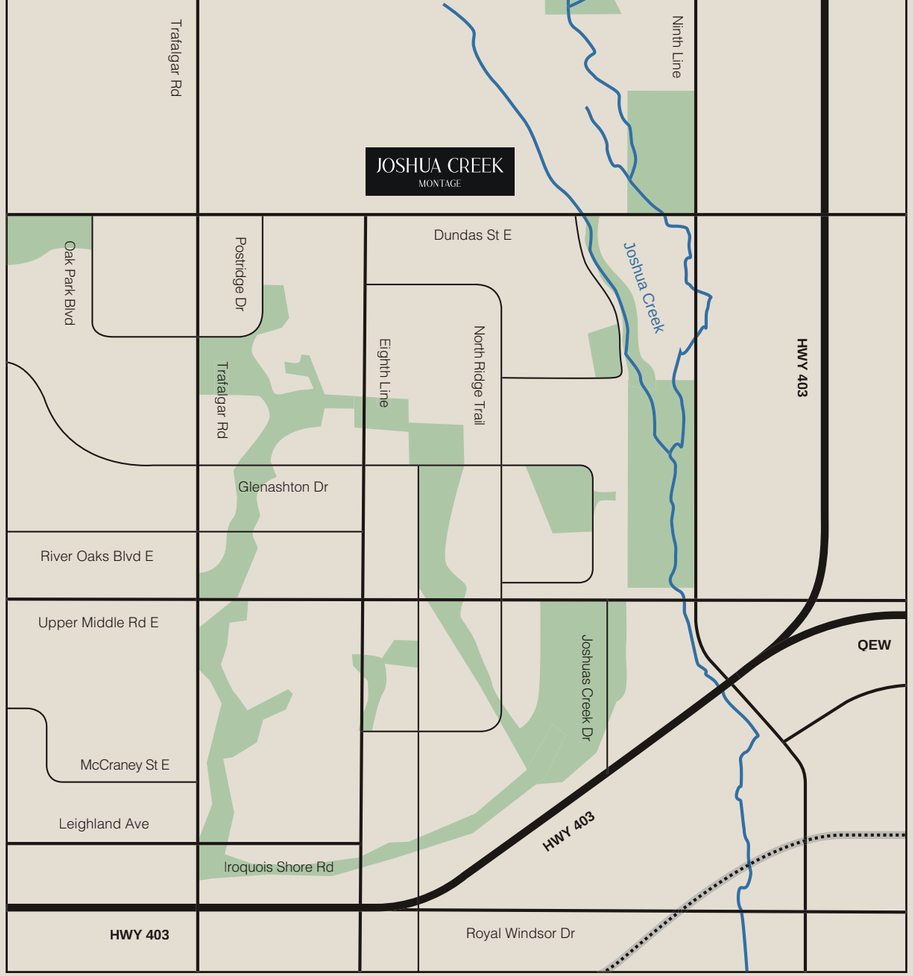
JOSHUA CREEK

Leafy and picturesque, Joshua Creek presents a modern village lifestyle, with wide-open green spaces balanced by conveniences and pleasures. Preserved natural forests that follow the curving ravines alternate with upscale urban amenities and seamless transportation access.

THE JOY OF JOSHUA CREEK

As one of the newer additions to Oakville — consistently ranked among the best cities to live in Canada — Joshua Creek affords the opportunity to experience an unparalleled lifestyle. Parks and nature reserves, upscale shopping options, top schools and recreational facilities and a plethora of fine dining restaurants in downtown Oakville make a compelling case for moving to Joshua Creek. It's a community where residents have put down deep roots, choosing to stay and grow rather than leave the area.

JOSHUA CREEK



EVOLUTION OF JOSHUA CREEK

Named after a watercourse that flows south into Lake Ontario, the community of Joshua Creek was built on land just west of the creek, in two phases, in the late 1990s and in 2004.

Joshua Creek was designed to be an affluent enclave, offering spacious, architecturally impressive homes along tree-lined streets in north Oakville. The neighbourhood prides itself on its cultural diversity, with people from around the globe now calling it home.

The origin of the name Joshua Creek dates back to 1897 when 21-year-old Joshua Leach arrived in the city of York (now Toronto) to work as a carpenter. With the money he saved, he purchased 200 acres around Joshua's Creek. There, he used his masterful carpentry skills to build his own home, along with a sawmill and threshing mill, on the site of today's Maple Grove Arena.

SPOTLIGHT ON RISTORANTE SOTTO SOTTO

About 27 years ago, a young woman named Marisa Rocca arrived in the GTA from Rome with a dream to own and operate an Italian restaurant. She has said that everyone thought she was "insane" to pursue this dream, but in the end, her hard work and perseverance paid off. Sotto Sotto is now a recognizable name and part of the cultural lexicon of downtown Oakville.

For an evening of exquisite dining at an Oakville landmark, reserve your table at Sotto Sotto and prepare for warm, attentive service and an unforgettable meal of authentic Italian flavours.

Do as the Romans do, and start with antipasto, then move on to salad or soup, a bold pasta dish or a main dish of meat or fish. Leave room for "Dolce" as the Tiramisu is legendary. Alternatively, choose a pizza and discover traditional ingredients with a Sotto Sotto twist. Pair your dinner with a wine that will awaken your taste buds to new nuances of flavour.
